

August 2014

FNTE in Action

A Note From Our President

Your love to see better living conditions in our world today motivates my team and I in our calling to help people help themselves. Rather than just giving people what they need, I believe that helping them help themselves is central to eradicating poverty in our communities. Sustainable, simple and cost effective solutions are what we developed at FNTE to help poor families in African villages.

Please visit us at Feeding Nations Through Education (FNTE) and thank you for joining us to make a significant and lasting difference in the most destitute places on our planet. Blessings on you,

Alfred K. Koala

Alfred K. Koala

Helping People Help Themselves

The Zongo family, beneficiary of our care package.

At FNTE, We are not just providing poor families with bulls, plows, and food; we ensure that people are trained, bulls are vaccinated, and that both people and animals have clean water to drink while achieving our ultimate goal- their children being educated.

FNTE program overview:

1 - Our care package for sustainable agriculture:

- 2 bulls and a plow
- Vaccination of the bulls
- A yoke with chains
- A bag of rice
- Training

2 - Clean water wells

3 - Education: School property to be built.

4- Micro-finance

2014 Service Trip to Burkina Faso

This August, our founder, Alfred Koala is leading a team of 8 to Burkina Faso for our 2nd FNTE service trip. We will be flying as far as a plane can fly, driving as far as a car can drive, biking as far as a bike can pedal and walking as much as our feet can carry us; All of this is to make a lasting difference in the lives of the less fortunate.

The projects of our 2 weeks trip are listed below but not limited to:

2014 service team, from left to right: Ann and Kip Holbrook, Jacky Hagberg, Jeff and Susie Fleming, Karen and Brian Horn, Larry Morse,

- We will be equipping 10 more families, each with our care package. Ashley and Alfred Koala, Debbie Morse (not pictured here).
- We will be drilling 2 clean water wells in 2 separate villages for 6,000 people.
- We will be training FNTE supported families.
- We will be providing around 2,500 eye glasses and a dental clinic to people in need.

The social and economic empowerment is inestimable. Not everyone can go, but everyone can help us make a lasting difference in the lives of the poor. Make a tax-deductible donation today!

Our Supporters Make the Difference

"My name is Jacky Hagberg. I have had the privilege of knowing Alfred Koala since shortly after he arrived in the United States.

I remember the first time he shared his vision of Feeding Nations Through Education: Giving villagers in his home country a pair of oxen, a plow, and training to make extra food to feed themselves - all for the purpose of their children's education. I was impressed by how sustainable it really is. He had it all worked out so the farmer could continue to cultivate his land for many years and create a surplus to sell to fund their children's education.

Jacky Hagberg (pictured) along with Shelley Moore, Gwyn Short, Linda Stark, and Candy McCracken make the group.

I was one of the previous team to go with Alfred and it's been an eye opener of how fortunate we (Americans) are.

I am not a wealthy woman. My husband passed away six years ago so my funds are limited. However, I was determined to make a difference by taking a family of 12 out of poverty. I shared my goal with friends and some decided to support. Together we raised the $1,650 needed for the oxen and plow care package to take a family out of extreme poverty.

What a blessing this has been. We are just a few women who saw a need and together we are making an impact in a family's life. Wow! What a thrill. I know we can't do everything but we can do something! Join us to make a lasting difference with FNTE - Surely, you will always be thankful you did."

Want to know more about the heart behind it? Click here or visit FNTE.